3 EXCELLENCE IS WHAT WE DELIVER

The Scuba S1 Pro offers more power, improved filtration, and cleans a larger area than the previous model. It introduces the Aiper App, allowing users to choose ECO mode for a full week's worth of cleaning or recall the device to the pool's waterline with the press of a button. Additionally, horizontal waterline cleaning gives your pool that finishing touch other robotic pool cleaners cannot match. aiper.com

From left: Rose Tarlow's classic is back in print for the first time since 2001; pop art and green hues grace this Tarlow-designed space.

THE PRIVATE HOUSE BY ROSE TARLOW

Initially released in 2001, this long out-of-print design classic is back and better than ever. Rose Tarlow's first new edition of The Private House (Rizzoli, rizzoliusa.com) features the same incredible advice but is updated with new images, better paper, sharper colors and a new foreword. "I was initially concerned readers would find a 20-year-old book antiquated," Tarlow admits. "But when I reread the book, I felt such nostalgia for the project. I truly loved writing [it], and upon rereading, I realized there was wisdom that readers could still enjoy."

RESIDING WITH NATURE: THE HOUSES OF KAA DESIGN BY GRANT KIRKPATRICK AND DUAN TRAN

Culver City's KAA Design is known for its timeless contemporary aesthetic and one-of-a-kind homes. The firm's latest monograph, Residing with Nature: The Houses of KAA Design (Rizzoli, rizzoliusa.com), is written by partners Grant Kirkpatrick, FAIA, and Duan Tran and features 10 unique projects whose designs highlight strong relationships with the outdoors. "Each home exemplifies a dynamic connection to nature, blending indoor and outdoor spaces seamlessly," Tran notes. "One of our favorite projects is the Tree House, which rises out of a hilltop precipice among an orchard of mature trees." The authors also provide insight into their process, inspiration and ideas.

This modern KAA-designed home beautifully balances contemporary spaces with stunning vistas.
